

Hevik summer technical underwear

The new line from this Italian brand consists of three lightweight garments designed to be worn under the usual motorcycle clothing. According to Hevik, they offer an optimal fit, allowing mobility through the use of elastic fabric, while adapting to its shape to fit the body producing a "second skin" effect. Manufactured from a combination of Dryarn, Spandex and Resistex Carbon, the material offers optimum temperature control and high strength. The range comprises a short sleeve T-shirt in grey camo (£32.95 SRP), sleeveless shirt (£34.83 SRP) and three-quarter length pants (£32.95 SRP). All available in sizes S-XXL.
